

LACK OF ACCESS

(TO THE TRUTH)

“Reproductive justice” activists (funded by population control orgs) blame high rates of abortion in the black community on poverty, higher uninsured rates, and “lack of access” to “reproductive health facilities”. There is no lack of access. There are about 600 Planned Parenthood facilities nationwide. There are over 13,000 other taxpayer-funded federally qualified health facilities that provide far more real healthcare (minus the violence of abortion) for women, men and children (born and unborn)—regardless of ability to pay. See GetYourCare.org.

In NYC, black women “access” abortion at a ratio nearly 5 times higher than white women & twice as high as Hispanics. These abortion facilities claim to provide reproductive healthcare that “prevents” abortions & reduces maternal mortality. They don’t. You don’t “prevent” abortion when you heavily promote & profit from it. Planned Parenthood also offers zero prenatal care at any of its NYC centers.
